Important Information

ELECTRONIC TICKET CONDITIONS

TICKET USE

The reserved fare is valid for a ticket used in its entirety, in the order (or sequence) and on the dates indicated on the ticket. An out of sequence use of a ticket shall render the ticket invalid.

A ticket that is determined to have been flown out of sequence is invalid and cannot be refunded.

MODIFICATION

- On a one-way ticket, if you modify your ticket at any time within the ticket validity period, you shall be required to pay the applicable additional fees; this may include a difference in fare or tax subject to what is prevailing at the time.
- On a return ticket, if you modify your ticket before the departure of the flight, you will have to pay the applicable additional fees. A fare or tax difference may apply subject to prevailing charges at the time. If you modify your ticket after taking the first flight, you will be required to pay applicable additional fees plus an applicable fare or tax difference.
- If you change your ticket from a non-refundable fare to a refundable fare, the non-refundable portion of your original ticket will remain non-refundable; unless in the event of an involuntary refund.
- If Ibom Air changes the published schedule leading to a disruption of the service, you will be allowed one free ticket modification at no charge to you.

NO-SHOW

You are considered a No-Show if you are neither present at check-in nor at boarding for the ticketed flight. A No-Show fee will be charged.

No-Show fees are applicable if you do not reschedule your ticket at least two (2) hours before the scheduled departure time of your domestic flight and at least four (4) hours before the scheduled departure time of your regional or international flight.

REFUNDS

- Your ticket may not be refundable; verify this with your issuing agent or the fare rules, if your ticket was purchased online.
- Refunds shall be processed in accordance with the Ticket's fare conditions and relevant applicable regulations.

- A voluntary refund will be processed based on the gross fare paid for the Ticket.
- In general, voluntary refunds attract a surcharge of 25% before a No-Show or 50% following a No-Show.
- Requests for the refund of a Ticket must be submitted to the issuer of the Ticket (the Carrier or Authorised Agent, as applicable).
- The Carrier shall refuse to grant a refund for any ticket:

-If the request is made after expiry of the Ticket's validity date.

-Which is determined to have been stolen, forged or in any way a counterfeit Ticket.

TRAVELLING WHILE PREGNANT

It can be daunting to travel when you are pregnant or expecting. In certain cases, you don't need to do anything different; you will however need to take some precautionary measures; the information below will help you understand what you need to do on Ibom Air flights in compliance with the requirements of Ibom Air conditions of carriage for expectant mothers.

- All expectant persons travelling on Ibom Air flights must complete and present a Pregnancy Waiver document at the check-in counter and the boarding gate. A copy of this will be collected by the processing staff at the boarding gate. This is mandatory.
- From 28 weeks pregnancy, expectant persons are required to present a fit to fly certificate from a certified medical practitioner/facility. The fit-to-fly certificate must be signed and stamped by the issuing medical practitioner; it must be issued within 48 hours from the schedule date of travel. The fit to fly certificate must indicate the below:

- Confirmation of a pregnancy
- That there are no complications during the pregnancy
- The estimated date of delivery
- The latest date your doctor expects you to be fit to travel
- That you are in good health
- That there is no known reason that would prevent you from flying
- The presence or otherwise of complicated pregnancies

- For your safety and your baby's safety, expectant persons from 34 weeks pregnancy are not accepted to travel on any Ibom Air flight.
